

About Woman's Hospital:

Woman's Hospital is the largest birthing center in Louisiana, delivering over 8,100 newborns each year. Nationally, Woman's ranks 17th for total births. The hospital is a Level III Neonatal Regional Referral Center with 84 individual NICU rooms, which encourage family bonding while providing highly specialized care. An OB/GYN medical residency training program is on-site. The hospital has been named to the "100 Best Places to Work in Healthcare" for fourteen years in a row!

Woman's Hospital has served south Louisiana for over 50 years, however, its new campus is only 9 years old. It was designed to provide the most innovative care in an environment that welcomes families and creates a soothing, healing atmosphere focused on meeting the needs of women and infants. Located on 225 acres in Baton Rouge, Louisiana, the five-story hospital building is nearly 500,000 square feet. The campus also includes a same day surgery center, physician office building and comprehensive breast & GYN cancer center.

Where we are located:

Woman's Hospital is located in Baton Rouge, Louisiana, the second largest city in the state. As the state's capital, it is known for its political influences and vibrant culture. Baton Rouge is located on the banks of the Mississippi River and enjoys a strong economy with major industrial and petrochemical companies located in the area as well as an emerging film industry. Baton Rouge is the home of Louisiana State University, Southern University, and other local colleges.
